

The University Of Sheffield. AMRC North West

Making things better for Lancashire manufacturers

Are you an SME manufacturer with big ambitions? AMRC North West can help you.

Based in central Lancashire, we are a world-class centre for advanced manufacturing research and innovation, and part of the University of Sheffield Advanced Manufacturing Research Centre (AMRC).

Through our RADAR programme, we offer a range of fully-funded manufacturing support projects and collaboration opportunities designed to boost competitiveness and productivity for Lancashire's small and medium-sized enterprise (SME) manufacturing community.

Fully-funded support is offered across our core capabilities in:

- Additive Manufacturing
- Batteries & Automation
- Digital Manufacturing
- Machining
- Low carbon technologies

Eligibility criteria applies to some fully-funded projects.
